Outcomes and Characteristics for effective local government scrutiny

Outcome What does good scrutiny seek to achieve?	Characteristics What would it look like? How could we recognise it?
1. Democratic accountability drives improvement in public services. "Better Services"	 Environment Scrutiny has a clearly defined and valued role in the council's improvement arrangements. Scrutiny has the dedicated officer support it needs from officers who are able to undertake independent research effectively, and provide Scrutiny members with high-quality analysis, advice and training. Practice Overview and Scrutiny inquiries are non-political, methodologically sound and incorporate a wide range of evidence and perspectives. Impact Overview and scrutiny regularly engages in evidence based challenge of decision makers and service providers. Scrutiny provides viable and well evidenced solutions to recognised problems.
2. Democratic decision making is accountable, inclusive and robust. "Better decisions"	 Environment Scrutiny councillors have the training and development opportunities they need to undertake their role effectively. The process receives effective support from the Council's Corporate Management Team who ensures that information provided to scrutiny is of high quality and is provided in a timely and consistent manner. Practice Scrutiny is Member led and has `ownership` of its work programme taking into account the views of the public, partners and regulators whilst balancing between prioritising community concerns against issues of strategic risk and importance. Stakeholders have the ability to contribute to the development and delivery of scrutiny forward work programmes. Overview and scrutiny meetings and activities are well-planned, chaired effectively and make best use of the resources available to it. Impact Non-executive Members provide an evidence based check and balance to Executive decision making. Decision makers give public account for themselves at scrutiny committees for their portfolio responsibilities.
